PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS

In the Senate on Friday the Standing Committees were announced by the Vice President. They are made up the same as last session with the exception of the substitution of new for old members.

A petition for the charter of a National Bank was presented by the N. O. Chamber of Commerce.

COMMITTEES OF THE SENATE.

Foreign Relations. Messrs Buchannan Tallmadge, King of Georgia, Clay, of Kentucky; Rives.

Finance. Messrs. Wright, Webster, Nicholas, Benton, Hubbard.

Commerce Messrs King of Ala Davis, Brown, Ruggles, King.

Manufactures. Messrs. Niles, Buchanan, Preston, Strange, and Pierce.

Agriculture. Messrs. Smith of Ct. Spence Linn, McKean, Black.

Military Affairs. Messrs. Benton, Preston, Tipton, Wall, and Allen.

Militia. Messrs. Wall, Swift, Clay of Ala. Mouton, Smith of Ind

Naval Affairs. Messrs. Rives, Southard, Tallmade, Cuthbert, and Tallmadge.

Public Lands. Messrs. Walker, Fulton, Clay of Ala. Prentiss.

Public Land Claims. Messrs. Linn, Sevier, Bayard, Mouton, Lyon.

Indian affairs. Messrs. White, Sevier, Tipton, Linn and Swift

Claims. Messrs Hubbard, Tipton, Crittenden, Strange, Young.

Judiciary. Messrs Grundy, Morris, King of Ga. Wall, Clayton.

Post office and Post Roads. Messrs. Robinson, Grundy, Knight, Brown, Niles

Roads and Canals Messrs Tipton, McKean, Nicholas, Young, Williams.

Pensions. Messrs. Morris, Sevier, Prentiss, Pierce and Roane.

Revolutionary Claims. Messrs Brown, White, Norvell, and Smith of Ct.

District of Columbia. Messrs. Kent, King of Ala. Nicholas, Roane, Allen.

Patents and Patent Office. Messrs Ruggles, Strange, Bayard, Prentiss and Robinson.

Contingent Expenses of Senate Messrs. McKean, Fulton, Black

Engrossed Bills. Messrs. Clay of Ala. Indiana Committee and Norvell

Enrolled Bills. Messrs. Smith of Ct. Lyon, Allen.

No business was transacted in the House. Mr. Bell having announced the death of Mr. Standifer.

Mr. Allen, the newly elected printer to the House, will have his printing done at the office of Messrs. Gales & Seaton, publishers of the National Intelligencer. The election of Mr. Allen was a severe blow to Blair & Rives. Blair did not hesitate to say that he had rather Gales & Seaton should have the printing, than the successful candidate. It is singular that Mr. Van Buren's message should have been delivered on Tuesday, praised by the Globe and censured by the Madisonian on Wednesday, and that on Thursday the editor of the latter should be elected printer. It proves that there is an anti-Van Buren majority in the House.

Mr. Rives, it is said, does not hesitate to express his disapprobation of the message, while Benton roars in very exstacy. He says the message should be printed on satin, and the name of its author transmitted to posterity as the worthy successor of his illustrious predecessor.

The loco-focos of New York have adopted resolutions approving of the President's message.

The shoe-store of Jas. G. Perkins, Cornhill, Boston, was much damaged by fire on Sunday morning last.

The two eldest daughters of Mr. Elms of Brooksville, Canada, were drowned with the servant maid, while bathing, owing to the maid (who held their hands) stepping suddenly into deep water.

The Greenfield, Ms. Gazette of the 5th inst. says, there had been frosts there for three nights back, but no damage done yet.

FLORIDA WAR. It would seem that a fresh brush with the Indians is anticipated. A call has been made upon Tennessee for troops. Van Buren should appoint Gen Jackson commander-in-chief of this army.

STAGE ACCIDENT. The Nashville Banner of Aug. 31st, says:

"We regret to learn that the stage for Louisville was upset a few days since near Munfordsville, Ky., by which the lady of the Hon. Richard Cheatham had her arm broken. The accident will detain Mr. Cheatham several days on his route to Washington.

Deaths in the city of Bangor, for the week ending Saturday, Sept. 9th. 1837.

THE MESSAGE.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Boston Atlas.]

Mr. Van Buren has for once committed himself to a determinate and unequivocal policy. There is no mistake as to the meaning of his language and the object of his recommendations. Though the style in which his sentiments are conveyed is cautious and circumlocutory, and occasionally obscure; yet upon the leading topics of his message he is sufficiently explicit. It will be readily seen, that his notions upon the currency are thoroughly Bentonian; and that in his remarks upon the deposite banks he deals in insinuations quite as injurious to those institutions as the bolder and more violent denunciations of General Jackson. He has identified himself with the loco-focos come forth a champion of the most destructive species of ultraism and aimed at the vital interests of the country a blow, which if it do not recoil upon the aggressor, must be productive to the country of lasting mischief, perhaps of irretrievable anarchy. The Whigs have reason to be thankful that the administration has so fully unveiled the features of its policy; that it has committed itself broadly and unreturningly to the pursuance of its measures. We now know the nature and extent of these evils against which we have to contend. The issue is fairly made up it is a struggle between the conservative principles of constitutional liberty and the disorganizing and agrarian dogmas, which a crafty despotism would empower to level the barriers to its elevation.

[From the Boston Courier]

It proposes nothing, but leaves every thing to the action of Congress John Randolph, were he alive, would say, it is full of "lofty generalities." All we can gather from it, is, that the President means to stick by the principles which governed the conduct of his predecessor. that he is opposed to a National Bank, and all State Banks, that he is in favor of what has been called the sub treasury system and that, in his opinion individuals must take care of themselves, while the Government must take care of the revenue for its own especial benefit and that of its agents This sentiment pervades almost every paragraph and gives color to almost every sentence. The President seems to think that the government was instituted for no other purpose than to provide for the payment of its own functionaries; and if that can be done to the satisfaction of these disinterested patriots, it is of no consequence what becomes of the people. In short, the Message is only a sermon from the popular text "To the victors belong the spoils:" and we confess that it is a very plausible argument in support of that doctrine. We do not see how in this respect, it could have been improved.

[From the N. Y. Evening Star.]

The message so anxiously looked for by a suffering people was received at an early hour this morning. It is any thing but satisfactory. we may say, to the friends as well as the opponents of the administration. It is a message written to redeem the personal pledges of the President written in obedience to the will of his predecessor written in payment of the office he now holds, and what is most singular and extraordinary very few if any of the suggestions contained in the Message, does Mr. Van Buren either hope or wish to carry. But it is both right and proper that the world should take the message prima facia as the sincere wishes and anxious hope of the President at this alarming crisis of affairs, and what a story does it tell of his character, his capacity and his honesty. To divest it of all ambiguity, and to translate it into plain English at once, such as any man can understand, he says We are in a bad condition credit is prostrated the Banks have suspended—the merchants are bankrupt—the gold and silver have disappeared, and things look gloomy all round. We have no time to examine how these things have been brought about. Let us cut loose the Government from the people. Take the public money into our own hands, and let the people get on as they can! This is the meaning of the Treasury agency recommended by the President, which he knows Congress will never sanction, and which in fact cannot be sanctioned without at once destroying the liberties of the country.

We shall at leisure go over the Message in detail. Not in a single instance, does the President refer to the true cause the origin the foundation of all the evils under which the country now suffers.

For the Whigs, nay, for the cause of Liberty and free Government, no better message could have been written. It seals the fate of the administration; the people of all parties cannot now pretend not to understand its ulterior veiws.

From the Alexandria Gazette,

We consider the Message of the President perfectly in character Specious, yet deceptive able, yet sophistical full of affected devotion to popular rights and yet reaching after additions to executive power.

From the N Y Com Adv.

We regard the message as the most dangerous state paper ever published in this country And so far as the business of the country, the currency, and indeed the existing depression upon all its great interests, are concerned. with the indications already given in Congress, we look upon any immediate prospect of relief as hopeless.

From the Providence Journal.

It is the imperative duty of the Whig press in every quarter of the Union to expose, with an unflinching hand, the audacious sentiments contained in this message. It is the duty alike of patriotism and of honor. It is for the interest of all, that all who are not bound by the chains of party, who are not prepared to swallow the poison administered by the Chief of Loco Fo[illegible], and forever surrender the most hallowed rights of a free American citizen, it is the duty of such to unite, to add to their zeal and diligence, and do all that men can do, to prevent the general reception of Van Buren Loco Foco doctrines. They are inimical to the high concerns of our country, and must demolish at one blow, the sacred principles of the Constitution.

From the New York Express.

For the last month, but particularly for the last week, public expectation has been directed to the meeting of Congress. The country having gone from bad to worse, and the Domestic Exchanges being in a more deranged condition than they have yet been, it was believed that the President would have offered some plan to extricate the country from its lamentable condition, that expectation has been disappointed in a most unexampled manner. The merchants here, without a solitary exception deprecate in the most decided terms the plan laid down in the message. They believe that the credit system has [illegible] enterprise [illegible] individuals that it has [illegible] canals and Rail roads, advanced D[illegible] and Foreign Commerce to an unparallelled extent, and in fact carried the country ahead half a century. entertaining these sentiments, and believing that the principles of the Message if carried out, would not only spread general ruin throughout the country, but would carry it back half a century at least; with these feelings the effect of the Message has been injurious—Many who had determined to sell goods pretty freely this fall, notwithstanding the gloom that overspreads the land, have now resolved that they will not sell on credit, nor will they give out their notes. This depression may be dissipated whenever the strength of parties shall be manifested. If it shall appear that the Conservatives have still the majority, the merchants will feel secure that the Loco Foco doctrines of the President cannot be carried out and in this they will feel secure.

From the N. Y. Star.

The Hypocritical canting Message of our Loco Foco President should be taken up paragraph by paragraph, and its falsehood and folly shown to the people nothing easier it can be shredded and converted into its original rags—Granted that people have overtraded—granted that Banks have issued too much paper, who was the cause? Jackson and Van Buren. They deranged the currency by withdrawing the deposites from the United States Bank—they induced Banks to issue too much paper by giving them the public deposits they made citizens overtrade by giving them additional banking facilities in the use of the people's money. Step by step they are the original and sole cause of all the troubles of the country, and yet Mr Van Buren very coolly and cunningly strips the burthen from his own back, and adroitly attempts to place the the blame on the shoulders of others.

The NEW ENGLAND is 3½ years old 173 feet long and 307 tons burthen During the past winter she has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired and the proprietors have spared neither pains nor expense to render her in all respects worthy of public confidence That she is the fastest boat on the eastern coast is now universally admitted and her superiority as a sea-boat has been fully proved

Travellers from the eastern part of Maine to Boston and from Boston eastward will find this route in many respects preferable to any other The mail stages from Bangor and Belfast arrive before the departure of the boat, and the boat arrives at Gardiner on her return passages from three to six hours before the departure of the eastern stages, thus affording travellers an opportunity of spending several hours in Gardiner Hallowell and Augusta

MORISON'S PILLS!!!

F. & I. S. WHITMAN, Agents, D [illegible]

THE friends of Hygeianism and the public generally are again cautioned against the unprincipled attempts of apothecaries and quack doctors, to destroy all confidence in these highly valuable and almost indispensable family medicines by the cry of imposition! exorbitant prices! falsehood! and more than all, by the astonishing benevolence of the cram in imparting to the world their wonderful discovery of the composition of them that a three dollar packet costs but one shilling that any person can make them, etc Counterfeiters also beware of the law The British College of Health have recently recovered damages of the makers and venders of a spurious dangerous article, in the courts of Massachusetts and New York, and their exclusive right and property in the sale is firmly established and confirmed in this country

Two hundred thousand dollars worth of these simple and effective med[illegible] United States and injury from them is unheard of One cause of the high price they bear is a heavy export duty paid in England, yet they are incomparably cheaper than any patent medicines ever offered saving as they do, expensive and protracted fits of sickness

The genuine article cannot be bought of apothecaries travellers or pedlars, they being denied the sale throughout the world The only place in this section where they can be had, is at the store of F & I S WHITMAN Bangor, (whose signature is labelled on every packet they sell) where may be seen printed reports of recent trials, certificates of cures etc Subscriptions received to the Family Adviser and Hygeian Record, a paper published at New York at $1 per annum.
